Local Artists Display The Valley's Heritage In Paintings

Vernon Murdock

Three local artists are nearing completion of paintings illustrating miraculous portions of Heber Valley history. Douglas Lee, Vernon

Lerry Wallace

Murdock, and Lerry Wallace are contributing their time and talents to this project. Through their efforts, our community will be able to understand and appreciate it's heritage.

Mr. Lee is a local professional artist and owner of The House of Fine Arts. He was born in Vernal. He received his BFA from the University of Utah. He has exhibited his art in many areas and shows.

Mr. Murdock, a native of Heber Valley, has studied art at Brigham Young University, and in Spain at the University of Madrid. He has been an artist/illustrator for the Seminary and Institute programs of the LDS Church and has also illustrated books independently. In addition to this, he recently completed his "Heritage Collection," which has been on display locally. He is married to the former Elizabeth Vance, and they have four children.

Mr. Wallace has been an art teacher at Wasatch Middle School since 1979. He received his B.A. at Weber State College in 1974, and his M.A. at Brigham Young University in 1987. He lives in Heber City with his wife, Brenda, and two children. His hobbies include pottery and playing the guitar.

Their paintings will be donated to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and will be on display on a rotating basis at various LDS Church buildings.
